COMMITMENT AND RENEWAL OF VOWS:

Commitment and Renewal ceremonies are not registered with the State of Florida and are therefore exempt from the licensing provision.

DELIVERIES:

Should client need to send items in advance such as wedding dresses or other attire, cake stands or other wedding-related items, client is requested to send these only by an approved express service that provides a tracking number such as Federal Express, UPS, etc., and to send items no earlier than 14 days prior to the event. In addition, client is requested to advise Conch Concierge of this intention before items are sent. Conch Concierge cannot accept responsibility for storing items without prior consent. Such storage may involve an additional fee.

WEATHER:

While Key West is blessed with some of the best weather in the country, clients should be aware that the period of June 1 to November 30 is considered “hurricane season”. While we can never predict in advance the weather on a particular day and time, chances of a significant weather event are increased during the hurricane season and are greatest during the months of August, September and early October. Clients are advised to please take this into consideration when planning your event. Travel insurance is strongly recommended and may cover some of your non-refundable expenses. Other prudent considerations are to create a back-up plan such as providing for a tent or other covered location. This becomes even more important when groups of approximately 20 persons or more are gathered.

Additionally, clients are reminded that Conch Concierge’s policy is to consider all deposits non-refundable upon receipt and that final payments, which are due 30 days prior to the event, are also non-refundable. Conch Concierge will work with the client to create alternatives, but this may involve additional costs, and recovery of vendor advance payments cannot be guaranteed. An example of the difficulty in recovering vendor payments is caterers who have already purchased food for your event and will not be able to recover monies, should the client be forced to cancel in the event of inclement weather. Such advance payments are frequently considered non-refundable by caterers and other vendors. Specific policies vary from vendor to vendor.

USE OF PUBLIC SPACES:

While certain public spaces such as beaches, gardens and parks are free to use. Client assumes responsibility and will insure that areas are left in the original or better condition than found. Client will insure that items such as, but not limited to, flowers, flower petals, cups, confetti, food, streamers etc. are properly disposed of following the ceremony. This may require bringing a rake, garbage bags, etc. to the ceremony site. In addition, I ask that you designate someone in advance to manage this task. Conch Concierge is available to handle this task if requested in advance. (fee applies.)

Your signature below acknowledges your acceptance of the above terms and conditions.

Packages including a specified number of images represent a minimum estimate of the number to be included in your on line album. An email link will be sent to you after the ceremony which will allow you access to your on line photo album, prints of your images may be purchased there. If you prefer, an archival quality CD/DVD of your photos is also available for purchase. Prices vary depending on the size of your digital file, please inquire for details.
